

Employee Discipline and Termination

By Carmela J. Woll, Esq.

Few issues concern owners and employees more than employee discipline and termination. The Law Office of Carmela J. Woll helps demystify these complicated legal areas for clients throughout the Santa Cruz area.

Discipline and Termination Issues, Including Severance Agreements

Our firm dedicates itself to employment law on behalf of business owners, hourly wage earners, and salaried executives. Our commitment to this area of law enables us to provide employers and employees with the focused legal guidance they need when employment-related questions arise.

Ms. Woll has spent years advising clients regarding their employment law rights and duties. As a result, she possesses the developed legal judgment that owners and employees need when it comes to handling employment concerns in circumstances routine and unique alike, including issues such as:

- Drafting and review of severance agreements
- Pregnancy and disability discrimination
- At-will employment
- Disciplinary warnings
- Suspensions
- Adverse employment actions
- Illegal retaliation

Ms. Woll is committed to the delivery of legal advice that is tailored to the unique circumstances facing each client. That means we emphasize the individual legal attention that enables this degree of counsel to take place.

To do so we work diligently to know our clients, their histories, and their goals for the future. Because we know our clients and our clients know us, we can tailor our legal guidance so that it is responsive to those specific challenges faced by employers and employees.

To contact us for more information, please visit www.carmelawoll.com